

Dr. Parinita Srivastava is a homoeopathic physician practicing since more than 11 years in Lucknow. Before starting her independent practice she has worked very closely with several renowned homoeopathic physicians and had the privilege of learning from their shared experiences.

She graduated from National Homoeopathic Medical College, Lucknow which is one of the top Homoeopathy Institute in the Country. Being a scholar throughout the academic life, choosing this profession was a conscious decision taken due to personal experiences in her early childhood that shaped her belief in the power of Homoeopathy. Today she works passionately and extensively to spread the benefits of the Homeopathy to a larger audience.

She wishes to propagate in the society the 'Holistic Approach' towards managing health issues and all her public interactions are themed around this objective.

She is spouse of Mr Jatin Srivastava, Chartered Accountant, who is adjunct Professor at JIM and an entrepreneur, specialist on Startup companies etc, and she leads normal joint family life.
